PROFILE

Nahuel has been an Associate at JHA since joining the firm in 2021.

His practice covers contentious matters, particularly tax disputes. Before joining JHA, he worked as an Associate for a law firm in Chile for almost 3 years, focusing on tax advice and tax litigation, representing multinational and local companies before the tax authority and at all levels of Chilean courts and tax tribunals. Nahuel also previously worked as a lecturer at Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile, teaching international law, and as a paralegal at a law firm, focusing on corporate and civil matters.

In 2019, Nahuel published an article on the tax treatment of charitable donations in Chile in Tax Notes International. Since 2018, he has participated as a judge in the Philip C. Jessup International Law Competition, the largest moot court competition in the world. He speaks English, Spanish and Portuguese.
